

Mojalefa Lesenyeha

Assignment-2

- ① Business Analytics: Is the practice of using data, statistical methods, technology and analytical techniques to help organizations make informed business decisions.
- ② Data Analytics: is the process of collecting, cleaning, transforming and analyzing data to discover useful information, identify patterns and support decision-making.
- ③ Business Intelligence (BI) refers to technologies, process and tools used to collect, analyze, visualize and present business data so that organization can make better decisions. ex (PowerBI)
- ④ Data-Driven Decision Making (DDDM) is the process of making business decisions based on data analysis and evidence rather than intuition, assumptions or guesswork.
- ⑤ Big Data: refers to extremely large and complex datasets that cannot be efficiently processed, stored or analyzed using traditional database systems and tools.
- ⑥ Descriptive Analytics: is the process of analyzing data historical data to understand what happened in a business. It uses reports, dashboards, charts, and KPIs to summarize performance and identify trends.
- ⑦ Diagnostic Analytics is the process of analyzing historical data to determine why an event occurred.
- ⑧ Predictive Analytics uses historical data statistical methods or machine learning to forecast future events and trends.

④

- ⑨ Prescriptive Analytics: is highest level of Analytics maturity. It combines historical data, predictive models, business rules, optimization techniques and AI to recommend the best actions for achieving business goals.
- ⑩ Data Literacy: is the ability to read, understand, analyze, interpret and communicate data effectively to make informed decisions.
- ⑪ Structured Data: is data organized in a predefined schema using rows columns making it easy to store query, and analyze. Unlike semi structured data.
- ⑫ Unstructured Data: is data that does not have a predefined format, schema or organizational structure. Unlike structured data, which stores neatly in rows and columns.
- ⑬ Data Warehouse: is a centralized repository that stores large amounts of historical structured data from multiple sources for reporting, analysis and decision making.
- ⑭ Data Mining: is the process of analyzing large volumes of data to uncover patterns and insights that are not immediately obvious.
- ⑮ Data Visualization: is the graphical presentation of data using charts, graphs, dashboards, maps and other visual tools to make information easier to understand and communicate. Unlike Data Analytics which focuses on discovering insights.
- ⑯ A Dashboard is an interactive visual interface that displays key performance indicators, charts, graphs, and other metrics in a single view to help users monitor performance and make quick decision quickly. Unlike a report which provides detailed information.
- ⑰ Metric is measurable value used to monitor evaluate and track the performance of a process, activity or business objective. Unlike a dashboard which displays information visually.

- 18) Key Performance Indicator (KPI) is a measurable value used to evaluate how effectively an organization, department, or process is achieving objective. Unlike a metric which can measure any activity.
- 19) A Benchmark is a standard, reference point or target used to compare and evaluate performance, process, product or result.
- 20) Segmentation is the process of dividing a dataset base, or population into smaller groups that share similar characteristics. Unlike classification which assigns data to predefined categories.
- 21) Conversion Rate is a metric that measures the percentage of users, customers or visitors who complete a desired action out of the total number of people who had the opportunity to do so.
- 22) Customer Acquisition Cost is metric that measures the total cost a business incurs to acquire a new customer.
- 23) Customer Lifetime Value: is a metric that estimates the total revenue or profit a business can expect to earn from a customer throughout the entire duration of their relationship with the company.
- 24) Churn Rate is metric that measures the percentage of customers, members, subscribers or users who stop doing business with an organization during a specific period.
- 25) Customer Retention Rate (CRR) is the metric that measures the percentage of customers or members that a business successfully retains over a specific period.
- 26) Net Promoter Score: is a customer loyalty and satisfaction metric that measures how likely customers are to recommend a company's products, services or brand to others.

- (27) Average Order Value: is a metric that measures the average amount of money spent each time the place an order.
- (28) Sales Funnel is a model that represents the journey a potential customer takes from first becoming aware of a product or service to eventually making a purchase.
- (29) Marketing Campaign: is ~~planned effort~~ is a specific project or initiative used to achieve one or more of objectives within strategy.
- (30) Post-Campaign Analysis is the process of evaluating a marketing campaign after it has ~~been~~ ended to determine how well it performed against its objectives and KPIs.
- (31) Incremental Revenue is the additional revenue generated as direct result of a specific business activity, marketing campaign, promotion, product launch or strategic decision.
- (32) Return on Investment (ROI) is financial metric used to measure the profitability of an investment.
- (33) Return on Ad Spend (ROAS) is a marketing metric that measures the amount of revenue generated for every unit spent on advertising.
- (34) Click Through Rate: is digital marketing that measures the percentage of people who click on a link, advertisement, email, or call-to-action after seeing it.
- (35) Bounce Rate: is web analytics metric the percentage of visitors who land on a website and leave without taking any further action, such as clicking another page.

③⑥ A/B Testing (also called split testing) is a method of comparing ~~the~~ two versions of a webpage, advertisement, email, app feature, or marketing message to determine which performs better.

③⑦ Lead Generation is the process of attracting and capturing interest from potential customers (called leads) for a product or service.

③⑧ Marketing Attribution: is the process of identifying and assigning credit to the marketing channels, campaigns or touchpoints that influence a customer's decision to make a purchase or complete a desired action.